Travel Drumheller Strategic Plan

January 5th 2021

Through a planning process that included your key stakeholders and community members, we would create the framework for a strategic plan focusing on challenges, goals, strategies and priorities. We would do this through a 4-hour Zoom workshop. I know this feels like a long time for a Zoom meeting, but we can keep people engaged and it is about the minimum amount of time that we should spend on the work. An optional second workshop could also be scheduled if you think more work on the plan would be beneficial.

Out of the workshop, we would summarize the overall framework as a starting point for your planning. We could then stay involved as a coach/sounding board as the plan progresses. We have worked with DMOs and operators of all sizes across Western Canada and have both indigenous and non-Indigenous experiences.

This is a pretty streamlined process, but I believe will set you up for success.

A preliminary budget is:

Preparation (1/2 day)	$900
Workshop (2 people @ 1/2 day)	$1,800
Summary (1 day)	$1,800
Ongoing engagement	$1,800

An additional workshop would be another $1,800.

I will revise this budget once we have been able to discuss our approach a bit more.

Insights

December Insights

- Overall
- Website traffic has decreased but this can be attributed to the increase COVID-19 restrictions in Alberta this month.
 - There were still very few website visitors between the ages of 18-24.
- Hyper
- The CTR is still more than the industry success benchmark of 0.1% which shows continued strong awareness.
 - The conversions that delivered the most were the Attractions and Off Site Clicks. This is consistent with previous months of the campaign.
 - Au Croque Monsier was the creative leading to the most conversions.
 - The Overnight group slightly out-performed the Daytrippers group, which is consistent with November's results.

Recommendations for January
